About

Since 1861, the University of Washington has been a hub for learning, innovation, problem solving and community building. Driven by a mission to serve the greater good, our students, faculty and staff tackle today's most pressing challenges with courage and creativity, making a difference across Washington — and around the world. Community engagement is central to our mission, and Community Connect UW is the hub of that commitment!

About

The work you will be doing as a volunteer at the UW Farm will vary depending on the weather, but mostly you will help us grow food for the community!

Students who will get the most out of service learning at the form one those willing to work in all kinds of seather, do the tasks most necessary to make the form successful, take it upon themselves to find useful projects when there is a full in activity, understand that forming tasks are not always immediately gratifying, and stay connected to our community and land beyond this guarter. In general, we work in small beams and vary the tasks each week, however much of the work is physical in nature and requires some stamine. If you are especially interested in one aspect or area of the form, let us knowl Get your hands dirty and your mind growing while heiging the UW Famil

Time and Location Note: Please note that time and locations are subject to last-minute changes due to the needs of the form. PLEASE CHECK THE WEBSITE ON A REGULAR BASIS, and look for emails from the Form Manager for changes to times or locations.

Supervisor: Perry Acworth, uwform@cw.edu (206) 550-4169

Context

The UW Farm is a student-powered mixed truit and vegetable operation that strives to cultivate learning, experience, and possion among students and community volunteers interested in creating productive and sustainable urban landscapes. The UW Farm is an excellent opportunity to put into practice a lat of the concepts you're learning in your classes!
